Pure I/O TM Web Base Application For Asset Management.

OPEX 3000 TM Web Base application ties together all the key elements that support the process required for asset management.

The system gathers data from multiple types of data sources to help formulate plans necessary for the protection of your assets. We seamlessly extract data from sources such as (PLC, DCS, handheld devices for operator rounds, and data historians) in addition we manufacturer low-cost cellular monitoring devices to capture data from remote equipment site such as: Level Web TM for wastewater lift stations, Smart Terminal TM for water production equipment etc. Our advanced algorithms identify asset conditions status performance and threats. The system auto generates emails notification and reports to individuals or groups performing the analysis required to make informed decisions on equipment maintenance strategies.
